SWING BY VANNI

the retro touch made contemporary

The Swing collection brings the popular rhythm of the '40 to some evergreen shapes—broad, linear and somewhat austere—and constructional revival of some vintage eyewear favourites given new life thanks to technology.

VANNI's revisiting of the memorable combi metal glasses with their coloured brow line (previously achieved by screwing slivers of acetate onto the metal) is now the result of applying bright thick lacquer to the upper profile. This fully handcrafted effect preserves the frame's strong personality; the lacquer can be sober blue, black, deep green or brown against a gunmetal, palladium or gold front. Shapes male, female and unisex.

The acetate, rather feminine in shape, matches monotone bases with pearly contrasting tone brow bar. Havana, dark green or blue, or a brilliant white/violet.
